Skunk River Music Festival Presents Jason Brown in Concert

The Bethany Life Foundation's 2008 Skunk River Music Festival will star Jason Brown on August 2 at South Park in Story City. Larry Elphic, Foundation Director for Bethany Life commented, "Jason has quickly become one of the Midwest's most popular country singers and we are thrilled to have him as our headliner." Tickets are $12 at the gate which opens at 5pm; the event will end at midnight. Local favorite Kenny Frette will open the festival at 6:45 pm, followed by Lane Gaffney who is a very popular country singer from Ryan, Iowa. Jason Brown will perform from 9pm to 11pm.

Proceeds from the concert will go to support Bethany Life's "Restoring Lives" capital campaign, a renovation project within Bethany Manor which will allow for the development of a beautiful skilled care area for residents who are recovering from an injury or serious illness. Betsy Warburton, President & CEO of Bethany Life Communities commented, "Our 'Restoring Lives' campaign is a very important part of our strategic plan to become the regionally recognized center for rehabilitative care. The support for our Foundation in raising these funds is deeply appreciated."

The festival will include food vendors, the Community Club beverage garden and a cash raffle. Bring a lawn chair (no coolers allowed). If you love country music, Story City will be the place to be on August 2! For more information call (515) 733-4325 or (515) 451-9778.
